CLASSROOM NEWS

Don't forget to send in library books today so the students can check out a new book in library!

We enjoyed learning about our Star of the Week, Lilly! She shared she loves cheeseburgers, SpongeBob, Where the Sidewalk Ends, and gymnastics! We will be celebrating Miles later in December.

The school Christmas Pageant is on the 8th at 3:00pm. All students will have nontalking parts and costumes provided. We have been practicing a lot! It is going to be so cute! Please enter the church doors and bring the students directly to the room. Please drop and go. We will be busy putting on costumes and getting ready in a short time. I promise we can do pictures after. We will not be able to open the doors until 2:40. It is always a very crowded night. If you have anyone coming with you, I would recommend you divide and conquer. One does drop off of the student and the other goes to get seats. Also, please be sure to have your child use the restroom before you leave the house. We always love this event and can't wait. Thanks for your support.

A few parents are needed! Please consider donating your time! FORS is looking for a few volunteers to help during Santa Pictures on December 8th following the Christmas Pageant. The job includes simply standing at the front of the picture line to collect FORS donations, aiding the photographer, and fixing Santa's beard when needed. Grab a friend and stay after your child's pageant for about 30-45 minutes! Please contact Michelle Burd if you are interested or let us know and we will get you in touch with her.

The new Book-It calendar will be coming home in the binders tonight. Please turn in the November calendar next week to be eligible for a pizza certificate.

Academic Notes

The popcorn games this week were: basketball, spy pen, pirate, high five, and find it!

In literacy, we reviewed CVC medial sounds, leveled readers, and unknown words in text.

In math, we began our subtraction unit

For the next couple weeks in Religion we will be focusing on the Nativity story. We will discuss, watch, and act out. I think they will know it pretty well by the end of December.

This month we will be reviewing a lot that we have learned and doing many themed centers. I love teaching this month because there are so many fun ways to incorporate Christmas but still learn. IE: graphing and tallying favorite Christmas treats. We are doing candy cane activities, learning about different country Christmas traditions, etc. I cherish being a Kindergarten teacher this month. The kid's excitement is contagious!

We will also be spending time practicing parts and songs for the upcoming pageant. The kids work really hard to learn these parts and words to the songs!

What's on the Web

I know that some of your children had the privilege of having Kristy Baddley as a teacher. For those of you that did not, she has been with Rise & Shine for quite some time. She has stepped down to only working limited hours for a very special cause. Her family is starting their own mission in Costa Rica. They will move there in a few years when their own children are done with school. Both Mrs. Menear & Mrs. G's kids had Ms. Kristy and we think it is pretty special to share with our own kids the ambition and outpouring of love that this teacher is now going to share in another country! Rise & Shine is so very happy for her! If you click on the link and then scroll down to the video labeled LOVEPURE you can see Ms. Kristy and her husband in a video describing their new nonprofit themselves! LOVEPURE:
